New Case Management System—JSI User's Conference

As you read in last week's Court E-News, the Idaho Supreme Court has approved a new strategic partnership with Tyler Technologies for a comprehensive, integrated statewide court management solution to replace ISTARS and our existing appellate court case management system. Click here for further details about the selection, scope and timing of this exciting initiative.

Obviously, this is a change in direction as it relates to our vendor partners. We have had questions from clerks regarding the upcoming User's Conference for our existing vendor, Justice Systems, Inc (JSI). JSI has been a tremendous partner to the Idaho Judiciary for many years, and court personnel are more than welcome to attend this user's conference; however, we want to make sure all personnel are informed of the Court's decision to implement a new case management system from Tyler Technologies. The JSI User Conference will not include a track for the existing ISTARS (Full Court) solution. Instead, they will be presenting and training on their new solution (Full Court Enterprise), which we will not be implementing.

We will be demonstrating the Tyler Technologies solution at the Idaho Institute for Court Management (IICM) in October. Clerks will have an opportunity to learn about the many features of this new system and participate in a hands-on demo of the application. We highly encourage maximum participation at IICM as we begin this exciting transition to our new case management solution.

If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out to Kevin Iwersen (Chief Information Officer) at kiwersen@idcourts.net or (208)334-3868.
